DRY WOODSTOCK.

After next Saturday, Woodstock will take its place among the Dry towns. With the exception of several months over a half century ago, this town has never been without bar-rooms. Whether the closing of the bars will have the good effect which the active anti-saloon people expect is a question which the future will decide. Among those who voted the dry ticket are some who regard it as an experiment. The reports from towns which have no bars are contradictory. Some claim that they can see a wonderful improvement, while others assert that more liquor is used than when the bars were open. Much depends upon public sentiment. Unfortunately for Woodstock, public sentiment upon this question seems to be about equally divided. Whether the town will be benefited by the change depends upon the enforcement of the law, the provisions of which seem to be ample. If low grade liquors should be carried about and sold by irresponsible parties, the condition of the town will be worse than when we had licensed saloons. If, on the other hand, the anti-saloon people be vigilant in detecting the violation of the law and promptly prosecute the guilty parties, we will have less drunkenness and the community will soon enjoy the advantages of living in a strictly temperance town.

One of the good features of the changed condition is that the pernicious habit of treating will be checked, if not altogether destroyed.

In every enterprise, from which men expect to make money, they are always on the look out for new customers, without which factories could not be run. The whisky manufacturers cannot succeed without patronage. One of the saddest features of the business is that there must be men to take the places of the thousands that annually fill drunkards' graves. Recruits are just as necessary for the business as they are for the armies which are often decimated by the enemy. From what source do the whisky men expect to obtain their recruits? From the young men—so often noble, good hearted fellows—who are enticed into bar rooms and there contract habits which will enrich the whisky men and impoverish and ruin them.

It has been said that some men who were in the habit of reeling upon our streets and loafing, in a maudlin condition, about the hotels, have threatened to leave the town, if the saloons should be closed. These parties could well adopt the language of the Botany Bay prisoners, and sing:

"True patriots we,
For be it understood,
We left our country,
For our country's good."

STONEWALL DISTRICT NEXT.

The Anti-Saloon League has succeeded in closing every saloon in Shenandoah county, and but one distillery remains in the county where at one time scores of them flourished.

Woodstock or the surrounding country will not reap the benefit of a "dry town" so long as the "Still House" situated in Stonewall district a few miles North of town continues to dispense the favorite "bug juice" at $2 per gallon.

If we are to have a "dry town" make it DRY, and don't have women peddling apple brandy around town in fruit jars.

Let the anti-whisky people of Stonewall finish the job.

John Longbeam, one of the oldest residents of Clarke county, died last week at his home in the Blue Ridge Mountains, aged ninety years.

Always to the Front.

The Southern Railway Company, the only railroad in the United States that has killed its own President in a "Smash up" made another record Tuesday by having the first head on collision at the new Terminal of the different railroads that go into Washington.

An out-going and an in-coming passenger train met on the same track at the mouth of the tunnel on New Jersey ave. and D street, with the result of putting two engines out of commission and injuring 14 people, none seriously.

There is no sense or generosity in blaming Mr. Bryan for refusing to advance the nomination for President next year. He says that he is not seeking the honor and will not feel in any way disgraced or disaffected if it goes to some one else, but will take it if offered. That is all that can be expected of human nature. If the democratic party is really the donkey it is pictured as being by the cartoonists, and will again rush headlong to defeat with Mr. Bryan riding it, then the party is a donkey, that's all. There is no help for a political organization which will not help itself.

Biliousness and Constipation.
For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by Walton and Smoot.

Mr. Roosevelt last Saturday signed the proclamation that made Indian Territory and Oklahoma a State of the Union. The signing put in motion the machinery of the State government at Guthrie, Oklahoma, taking control from the republican appointees and putting it in the hands of the duly elected democratic officers.

A Significant Prayer.
"May the Lord help you make Buckle's Arnica. Save known to all," writes J. G. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. It quickly took the pain out of a felon for me and cured it in a wonderfully short time. Best on earth for sores, burns and wounds. 25c. at Schmitt's drug store.

Gov. Swanson says he is in favor of the people electing the members of the State Corporation Commission. He will make such recommendation to the general assembly in his annual message.

DeWitt's Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve penetrates the pores—thoroughly cleanses—and is healing and soothing. Good for piles. Sold by Walton and Smoot.

The meaneast reason given yet for leaving the time honored motto, "In God We Trust" off the new ten dollar gold piece was, that the President was jealous.—Augusta Argus.

Pneumonia Follows a Cold
but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents pneumonia. Walton and Smoot.

Fish in Inclosed Waters.

Most people not without education and a general knowledge of natural history are mystified by the presence of fish in inclosed waters. For many years there was open mouthed wonder over the perch, bream and crayfish found in the newly cut dams near the Macquarie river, in New South Wales. In some cases the water had seeped, settled after the rain had filled the dam than the fish were observed, and the Australian farmers started a theory of spontaneous production. This obtained and gained wide credence until a Sydney professor claimed to pick up a wild duck and found its bones feathers and webbed feet well dotted with fertile and almost hatched fish, on which the "spontaneous production" theory was promptly withdrawn.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Common Sense In Piano Buying.

If you were about to open a store—Grocery, men's furnishing, clothing, hardware or any other kind of business—to whom would you go for your stock? To the manufacturer or another dealer? You would of course go to the manufacturer, else you couldn't compete, why not observe the same rule in buying your piano. We are piano manufacturers and our pianos are made in Baltimore. Our factories are the best equipped in America, and we can save you jobbers and dealer's profits.
